CHATHAFOODS

PROCESSED & FROZEN FOOD

Synonymous with premium quality, Chatha Foods caters to a diverse demand for processed frozen as well as ready-to-eat meat products. Chatha Foods manufacturing facilities and systems are FSSC 22000 certified from NSF.

We had one aim, producing premium quality processed meat using cutting-edge technology with no room for compromise. And owing to this belief, with which we started in 1998, we have been India's leading frozen, ready-to-eat poultry meat manufacturer as well as exporter, not only in the national but also the global market, ever since.

Presently, our plant possesses a production capacity of 500 tonnes per month, and is located in a clean and green environment. Thanks to our hi-tech, state-of-the-art machinery, consistency in high quality products, batch after batch, is also ensured.

The secret of our success is surely our strong belief in developing strong customer relationships through a partnership approach. We pride ourselves in our dedication towards innovation, brand management, consumer focus and an unwavering commitment to food safety. Acutely aware of the changing market requirements, we continue to supply consumers with premium quality products at competitive prices.
